

A rapidly growing short term crop highly attractive to pheasants, partridge and deer both as cover and feed.

The large amount of nectar produced attracts bees and other beneficial insects which in turn provide added interest for game birds.

It is a useful component to add to mixtures due to its bulkiness and its ability to continue to provide holding cover and feed after the first frosts when the crop has fallen.

Buckwheat thrives in sunny rather than shaded areas.

Ratings

Cover Crop

Feed Crop

Nectar Source

Seed Rate	Pack Size	S
50kg/ha	25kg	U